

GET WELL
SOON,
INDI !!!

Dear Indi,

My name is Alfie, and I'm a Wire Fox Terrier. I've been living with my family in South County for about four years now, and life is really good, but before I came here, I had a terrible life. I was really sick for a long time, and I was way too skinny. It took about a year for me to get better after I came to my new family, but I'm doing great now. So I know how you feel. I know how sick and scared you are, but you'll get better, just like I did. Try to do everything your doctors say, and don't be afraid of all the tests and procedures, and the yucky-tasting medicines. You're safe now, and every day is going to be better. You're probably already figuring out that most humans love us dogs. Soon, you'll see that life isn't about pain and fear and sickness, but is all about tummy rubs and tasty treats and soft pillows and cozy laps to sit in. Trust me. I know all about it. So rest easy now, Indi, and know that all of us rescue dogs can't wait for you to be well enough to come out and play.

Love, Alfie
